Stop the Thief!—Stop the THIEF!
A DARING villain entered my stable on the night of Wednesday, the 20th of this month, and stole my RIDING HORSE, SADDLE, BRIDLE, MARTINGALE and COLLAR.
The Horse is about sixteen hands high, seven or eight years old, neat spring; of dark iron grey color, with a long and full switch tail, which is white towards the end; he has large legs, is of coarse and heavy appearance, but rides well for one of his size; has a blister on the right side, occasioned by a saddle scald, which was bare when he was stolen. He carries his fore feet so close as to cut his ankles, unless great care is taken in shoeing him, and marks now appear on them made by his shoes.
The Saddle is old, with plated stirrups, much effaced, and a cloth of twilled cotton, spotted, and somewhat resembling a leopard skin. The Bridle has red leather reins and snaffle bit; and the Martingale is of red leather, with plated hooks.
About two o'clock on Thursday morning, the 21st instant, a man about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, of spare figure, thin visage, of genteel and youthful appearance, with dark hair, was seen in Alexandria, D. C. by the watchmen of the town, riding a horse of the above description, which, from his appearance, had been rode fast. The watchmen describe this man as being in his manner, and of quick speech—he wore a cloth cap, with a large tassel, and a dark camelot cloak; his departure from Alexandria was sudden, and circumstances justify the belief that he went towards Washington, and thence Northward.
For the recovery of the Horse, I will give a reward of Thirty Dollars, and the additional sum of Fifty Dollars for the conviction of the Thief.
Any information on this subject may be communicated to Bernard Hooe, of Alexandria, as I expect to be absent from home for several weeks.

HENRY'S COMMENTARY ON THE BIBLE, in 3 vols, price $10 and $12; super royal 8vo fine paper, handsomely bound in extra sheep, with raised bands and spring-backs, with practical remarks and observations, now greatly improved by a new arrangement of the sacred text in separate verses, at the heads of the pages, and the insertions of the Polyglott marginal readings and references—to which is prefixed a Preface, by Archibald Alexander, D. D., a Memoir of the Author, by the Rev. Samuel Palmer, and an elegant Portrait from a steel engraving. In order to ensure the correct execution of this valuable commentary, it has, at extra expense, been carefully compared with several of the most approved editions, and prepared for the press from Baxter's London edition of 1811 (said to be the most correct edition ever published) edited by the Rev. Geo. Burder and Rev. Robert Hughes, A. M. Just received by
